

Program HomeAuthor Index

Thinking with, through, and against Benedict Anderson's Imagined Communities: The Legacies of a Major Historical Paradigm

AHA Session 278

Sunday, January 7, 2018: 9:00 AM-10:30 AM

Columbia II (Washington Hilton, Terrace Level)

Chair: Fabio López Lázaro, University of Hawaii

Panel: Joy Damousi, University of Melbourne

Wojtek Jezierski, University of Gothenburg

Session Abstract

Participants in this roundtable offer reflections on how their research and the fields of pre-modern, modern, and global historical enquiry within which they position their own investigations were influenced by Benedict Anderson's Imagined Communities.

See more of: AHA Sessions

<< Previous Session | Next Session >>
